Section 2. All statements required to be filed under this Act shall be for the calendar year ending the first day of January, and shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of State in the regulations adopted by him for the purpose of this Act. No corporation shall file a report under this Act until it shall have obtained a certificate from the Secretary of State to that effect.

Section 3. If the secretary of state finds that any corporation has failed to file a report required by this Act, he shall give notice of the failure to the corporation and shall order it to file a report, in which case the corporation shall be liable to the secretary of state for the cost of such report.

Section 4. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, approve or disapprove any report filed under this Act, and in case of disapproval, he shall give to the corporation a written notice thereof, containing a statement of the reasons for such disapproval. The corporation may, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the disapproval of its report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the disapproval of its report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the disapproval of its report.

Section 5. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 6. Any person claiming to be a member of any class of stockholders of any corporation may, for the purpose of this Act, file a petition with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 7. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 8. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 9. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 10. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 11. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 12. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 13. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 14. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 15. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 16. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 17. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 18. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 19. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.

Section 20. The secretary of state may, in his discretion, require any corporation to make a report under this Act, and the corporation shall, within ten days after receipt of such notice, file a report in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth the reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report, and the secretary of state may, in his discretion, give to the corporation a further opportunity to file a statement in writing with the secretary of state, setting forth any additional reasons for which it contests the requirement of such report.
