Letter #: 907A00054284

Ms. Becky McKnight:

I am writing in response to your letter dated September 17, 2007 (copy enclosed), communicating the assessment of penalties for the late filing of our Application for Authorization to Transact Business in Florida. We are respectfully requesting a waiver of the assessed penalties. As a basis for our requests we submit the following details that document the causes for the Company's previous noncompliance and the corrective actions that have been taken to insure that Under Armour, Inc. becomes a good corporate citizen.

Under Armour, Inc. was formed in 1996 and has experienced explosive year over year sales growth that continues today. At that time the company established nexus in Florida (2006), the Company's accounting group was stretched to its limits keeping pace with the Company's sales, customer, and employment growth. Neither the Company's accounting staff nor managers had any direct tax experience, and as a result, the Company relied heavily on outside tax consultants. As a result of the accounting group's lack of tax experience, tax advice was only sought when issues were brought to the Company's attention by external parties or governments.

During 2005, the Company began to recognize the need for an internal tax accountant that could attend to the mounting tax issues that had been brought to the Company's attention. In late 2005, the Company hired me to become its Tax Manager and to begin work on the most urgent Federal tax issues, in light of the Company's upcoming Initial Public Offering (IPO).

By the end of 2006, I was able to begin reviewing the Company's state tax filings and the activities of the Company's sales personnel. During the review, potential nexus creating activities were discovered and Management determined SC&H's State and Local Tax Consultants should be engaged to review our activities and determine our urgent sales & use tax matters. Through SC&H's work during the first half of 2007, it was determined that Under Armour, Inc. created sales tax nexus in Florida during 2006 and SC&H wrote to you in July 2007.

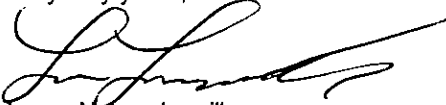

Subsequently, Under Armour, Inc. has registered to collect Florida sales tax and is attempting to register to transact business in Florida, in accordance with Florida law. The Company will file its 1st Florida quarterly sales tax return for the period ending September 31, 2007 and remit all tax due on or before the due date.

Under Armour, Inc. believes that it exercised ordinary care in correcting our delay in registration in the State of Florida. Moreover, there was not any willful neglect of responsibilities in becoming compliant with Florida law to transact business in Florida. The Company's Management feels that it has acted prudently and with resolve in correcting the conditions that were responsible for its noncompliance. Under Armour, Inc. is now in a position where it can be a responsible taxpayer and a good corporate citizen. We, therefore, respectfully request a waiver of the penalties associated with the delay of registering with the State of Florida, based upon reasonable cause.

Thank you very much for your consideration of this request. Please contact me at (410) 454-6711 with any questions or if you wish to discuss the matter further.

Very truly yours,

This will acknowledge receipt of your correspondence which is being returned for the following reason(s):

I'm sorry but we can not waive the penalty fee. What we can do is lower it to $500.00 per year plus annual report fees. It is the responsibility of the corporation to find out what the requirements are for transacting business in Florida before they start doing business. We will need a total penalty fee of $650.00.

Please return your document, along with a copy of this letter, within 60 days or your filing will be considered abandoned.
