Dear reinstatement department:

We are writing to respectfully request a waiver of the reinstatement fee for the above Florida Corporation.

As you are aware, this corporation was created on October 8, 2002. Being a new corporation, the owners were not aware that such a UBR report was required and they therefore didn't miss when the notice did not show up in the mail. Apparently their postal carrier had been delivering mail to the wrong address. Logically, you would think the person who received the mail incorrectly would return it to the post office, but we all know that hardly ever happens and it usually winds up in the trash, which is a federal offense.

Nonetheless, the company received a letter early June 2003 stating they hadn't filed the report. At that time I instructed them to file the report immediately and then to let me know when the late filing notice was received. Such notice was received on June 25, 2003 (attached) stating that the $150 check they sent had been cashed but the report was not filed due to the $400 late fee not being paid. Unfortunately, the client never addressed this issue, nor was it brought to my attention and the corporation has later been dissolved.

Due to the fact that a new company could be established for a mere $70 fee, we feel the $400 late filing fee and later the $600 reinstatement fee are extreme. Especially this being the first year this business was established. We therefore request a waiver of the late fee and the reinstatement fee and you accept our $150 fee paid as paid and consider the corporation active and in good standing.

Truly,

Pete Orlando, CPA
