To Whom It May Concern:

The purpose of this letter is to let your office know that as of today I have not received the Annual Report form for my corporation for the year 2003. I've called several times requesting it, and every time the response was, we will send you as soon as possible. Today when I called someone at your office finally told me that I could download this form from the Internet. She also told me that I need it to write a letter explaining what had happened, so your office could review my case and attached a $150.00 check with the annual report. I'm sending it to your office the way I was instructed by your office. If you need further information regarding this matter please, do not hesitate to contact me at your earliest convenience.

Very Truly Yours,

Liliana Parra
President

Attention Katrina:

As per our conversation on Thursday, August 5, 2004, the purpose of this letter is to let your office know that as of today the annual report for 2003 for our company, Inversiones Parra Inc, has not been renewed. According to you, your office never received the correction that was sent back to your office on September 30, 2003. There for, I'm sending you a copy of the letter that we received, the corrections that were made and the letter explaining why we filed late for that year. Also, attached is a completed reinstatement form with a check of $150.00 that will cover this year's renewal. If you need further information regarding this matter please, do not hesitate to contact me at your earliest convenience. Thank you for all your help.

Yours truly,

Mario Parra
