To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing this letter to you per my conversation with your office on 26 October 2004, regarding the dissolution and/or revocation of my corporation.

As I explained, we were struck by two of the four hurricanes that hit this area, had no power for days and were unable to utilize our office or computer. We also sustained extensive damage and had to remain closed until repairs could be made. I sincerely made every effort to meet my obligations but unfortunately was unable to ensure that all were met on the required due date.

I would like to request that you give consideration to this special circumstance and reinstate my corporate status and waive the late fee.

With all due respect. I would think the State of Florida and Governor Bush would be obligated to waive such late fees given the nature of the catastrophic events that hit our state this year. Again, your consideration in this matter would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
