Dear Sir/Madam:

I am writing you with regards to my Annual Report for 2004. It seems that the gentleman who was my registered agent has either moved or passed away as I have not heard from him in over a year. Last year I wrote to you regarding my 2003 Annual Report because I never received the appropriate paperwork that would enable me to file online as I had in the past and, subsequently I believe my filing may have been late. Yet again, this year I did not receive the documents. I contacted a representative from your office and he stated that the new format involves a postcard being sent out to the Registered Agent. Again, I have not received this postcard which concerns me deeply. My business is very small and struggling and I cannot afford to pay a large late fee.

I am attaching copies of the documents filed with your office last year along with a copy of my cancelled check for 2003 Annual Report Fee as well as a copy of your "Statement of Change of Registered Office or Registered Agent or Both for Corporations" which I am mailing to the appropriate address under separate cover. I hope you will also find enclosed my business check for $158.75 for the Filing of my 2004 Annual Report and Certificate of Status.

I sincerely hope you can help me with this matter and waive any late fees. It is very important that I keep my small business in good standing with the State of Florida since one day hopefully my business will flourish and become something that will benefit my children.

Most Sincerely,

Maria C. Colon
President/CEO
