To whom it may concern:

This letter is to inform you that CEL Leasing Corp. has moved its location and we did not receive our 2001 Uniform Business Report. We did receive the Notice of Dissolution from the new tenants that now occupy the office space we were in. I am sending the form filled out with the new address information and check for $150.00 for the filing fees. Thank you

Sincerely,

Michael Haspel

To whom it may concern:

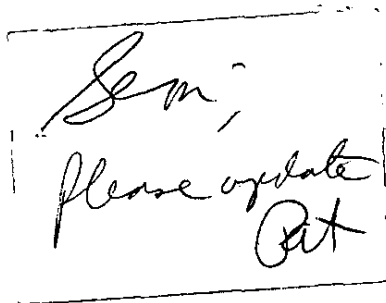

This letter is to kindly request the reinstatement of the status of the CEL Computer and Equipment Leasing Corporation to active. On Nov. 21 2001 I received a bank notice of the returned check for the $150.00 filing fee. I proceeded to call your department to take care of the error that was my fault. The person that I spoke with advised me that the check will be reenter and I should make sure that the finds are in the account. I check the account and there were sufficient funds in the account. I did not receive any additional notification after that point. This led me to believe that everything was in compliance. I had several additional conversations with various departments since that incident about my corporation and some of the various requirements that I was responsible for. We made some filing changes, to my account and at no time was I notified that there were any discrepancies with my corporation.

If would be greatly appreciated if you can change the status of my corporation to active. I have included a money order for $165.00, which includes a $15 return, check fee. Thank you for your time and assistance in this matter.

Kindest Regards,

Michael Haspel
President/CEO
