Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

My company is a One-Person small business, just established last year in the U.S., I am originally from Canada and had moved to the U.S. last year.

I was originally planning to mail in the 2000 Uniform Business Report on time early in the year. However, just one week before the filing deadline I had a terrible accident that seriously damaged my right leg from the foot to the knee to the hip. I was hospitalized, immobilized for weeks, and on crutches for 4 months after that. (If you don't believe me, I can send you photographs and copies of hospital bills as evidence.) Ever since that accident I have been fighting to handle all medical bills and to stay afloat, personally and business-wise. Just recently I am beginning to make progress in that direction again.

I know, if I had not made this terrible mistake of the accident, and just filled in the form earlier and sent it off, I would have saved $400 with the filing deadline of this report.

~~At this time, however, I can only pay $150 and file the report now. I know it is not fully complying with your requirements, but hope that you will accept my report for now and waive the increase of the filing fee to $750 for me.~~

If you require it, I will pay the missing $400 for the current submission as soon as I can. If not, I will make double sure that I file next year's report on time, and recover from all the troubles I have gotten myself into.

Thanks in advance for your understanding of my situation.

Sincerely yours,

Hermann Strijewski
