FRAMING ECOLOGICAL ECONOMICAL

A PATH TO SUSTAINABILITY

Reinventing

Is the use of economical and ecological ideas in innovative ways. We always focus on the bottom line for the client. Whether you are a homeowner trying to keep on top with the changing times and are wondering "How can I do my part?" or a large company that knows that "We have to do our part." Framing can help. Providing the analysis about the technology that makes sense for you and your location is our specialty. With all the new ideas out there on how to conserve we have found the ideas that really work. We have found that a good idea is not good every where and synergy is needed to save money in the world today. Please take a minute to look at some of the areas we can help you: Site Usage & Landscape Design, Water Conservation, Resource Management and Energy Conservation, Material Usage and Interior Design. If you don't see your topic covered here please contact us because "Framing is specializing in your problems"

Interior Design

As a licensed interior Designer not only green and sustainable design is our passion but also interior architecture as a whole. Space planning, custom millwork, furniture and color selections among many other services are offered by Framing. With the knowledge of materials that are not only aesthetically pleasing, but also made them more comfortable to recycled consumers and can as a source of energy conservation. helps you make the right decisions on what you put into your home or business and in addition we offer energy audits. Framing will come out to your property and evaluate your current conditions and then suggest a number of ideas that will not only help with lowering bills but also improve the look of your space without impacting the environment of your walls.

Site Usage & Landscape Design

Framing problems are sites consisting of an evaluation of the micro habitats that are present on the site at that time. The main function of this evaluation is to accurately identify the details specific to the site and to engineer a plan that allows for the smallest amount of landscape maintenance that the client desires would allow. Also in the spirit of conservation, all plans are chosen according to their soil type, light and water demands. Choosing the appropriate plants for the location while keeping in mind the overall design and beauty will save you hundreds of dollars a year in both in labor and water bills.

Material Usages

Framing means water. Framing finds ways to turn that waste into profit for you and your company. It may be the choice of high grade construction materials for the project or choosing materials that you can recycle and won't have to throw away in the home projects or the ones around. Framing can also help catch the water in the production of your products and find innovative ways to recycle or reuse it. In homes Framing can help you implement the systems that will reduce water and make recycling second nature.

Efficient Electrical System

Framing finds the most efficient electrical system for you whether it is a variable speed motor - save more by matching the speed to the need or an automatic lighting system where you never forget the lights again. With automatic light when the sun is out the lights automatically turn so that the same amount of light is in the room or area on each morning season and the lights on when you are there and turn off when you are not.
