In the case of a redemption of a part only of the outstanding Preferred Stock, the Corporation shall designate by lot, in such manner as the Board of Directors may determine, the shares to be redeemed. At least thirty (30) days' previous notice by mail, postage prepaid, shall be given to the holders of record of the Preferred Stock to be redeemed, such notice to be addressed to each such stockholder at his post-office address as shown by the records of the Corporation. On or after the date of redemption stated in such notice, each holder of Preferred Stock called for redemption shall surrender his certificate for such stock to the Corporation at the place designated in such notice and shall thereupon be entitled to receive payment of the rademption price. In case less than all the shares represented by any such surrendered certificate are redeemed, a new certificate chall be issued representing the unredeemed If such notice of redemption shall have been duly shares. given, and if on or before the redemption date funds necessary for the redemption shall have been set aside so as to be and continue available therefor, then, notwithstanding that the certificates representing any shares of Preferred Stock so called for redemption shall not have been surrendered, the dividends thereon shall cease to accrue after the date of redemption, and all rights with respect to the shares so called for redemption shall forthwith after such redemption date cease and determine, except only the right of the holders to receive the redemption price without interest. after giving notice of redemption, as aforesaid, of all or any part of the Preferred Stock, the Corporation may deposit with a bank or trust company in the Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York, as a trust fund for the benefit of the holders of shares called for redemption, an amount in cash sufficient to pay the redemption price of such shares. After the making of such deposit, such shares shall not be deemed to be outstanding for any purpose, and the rights of the holders thereof shall be limited to the right to receive payment of the redemption price from such fund upon surrender of the certificates. Subject to the provisions hereof, the Board of Directors shall have authority to prescribe from time to time the manner in which Preferred Stock shall be redeemed.

- (8-A) The 5,000 shares of Preferred Stock first issued shall be convertible into Class A. Stock at any time on or before December 31, , 1933, upon the following terms and conditions:
  - the option of the holder thereof, shall be convertible at any time on or before December 31st, 1933, into four full paid and non-assessable shares of Class A.

- (b) The conversion of shares of Preferred Stock shall be deemed to be effected at the time the Certificates representing the same are surrendered for conversion properly endorsed as above provided, and the holder of the Preferred Stock so converting the same shall . at that time cease to be a holder of Preferred Stock for any purpose whatsoever, and shall become entitled as of ... such time to all dividend, subscription and other rights of a holder of record of the shares of Class A. Stock issuable upon such conversion. All shares of stock issued upon the conversion of Preferred Stock shall be full paid and non-assessable and the Stock certificates representing the same shall so state. The Corporation shall at all times authorize and reserve un-issued a number of shares of Class A. Stock sufficient to satisfy the conversion rights of the holders of all outstanding Preferred Stock having the conversion privilege.
- (c) On or before December 31, 1933, so long as any shares of Preferred Stock having the conversion privilege are outstanding, the Corporation shall not: (I) issue any shares of any new class of stock having rights, powers or privileges superior to or conflicting with the present Class A. Stock; or (II) pay any disidend on Class A. Stock unless such dividend is paid in eash; or (III) issue any Class A. Stock except for property or services taken at their fair value as adjudged by the Board of Directors, or for eash, and in any case only at the fair value of the stock at the time of such issue as adjudged by the Board of Directors.

- (d) Nothing contained in this paragraph (8) in regard to the conversion of rights of Preferred Stock shall be construed to give the holders of Preferred Stock having such conversion privilege any right by implication or any rights whatsoever except as herein expressly set forth, or, except as herein expressly stated, to prevent the Corporation from taking any corporate action whatsoever which it could properly take if such conversion rights did not exist.
- (8-B) All or any part of the remaining 5,000 shares of Preferred Stock shall be convertible into class A. Stock upon such terms and conditions as shall be stated and expressed in the resolution or resolutions providing for the issue of such stock adopted by the Board of Directors; which terms and conditions may be the same as those upon which the 5,000 shares of Preferred Stock first issued are convertible, or may be different, except that no share of Preferred Stock shall be made convertible into more than four shares of Class A. Stock; provided, however, that none of remaining haid 5,000 shares of Preferred Stock shall be convertible into Class A. Stock unless such right shall be stated in the resolution or resolutions providing for the issue of such stock adopted by the Board of Directors. In case all or any part of said 5,000 shares of Preferred Stock shall not be made convertible, or shall be made convertible upon terms and conditions different from these upon which the 5,000 shares of Preferred Stock first issued are convertible, the Board of Directors. is hereby authorized to designate and cause to be issued any such shares of Preferred Stock as one or more separate series, distinguished from other shares of Preferred Stock having different rights in respect of conversion in such manner as shall be determined by the Board of Directors.

(8-C) Except that, as above provided, some shares of Preferred Stock may be convertible into Class A. Stock upon different terms and conditions from those upon which other shares are convertible, and some shares may not be convertible into Class A. Stock, the rights and preferences of each share of Preferred Stock shall be the same as those of every other share thereof.

(9) The Preferred Stock shall be entitled to the benefit of a sinking fund as set forth in this paragraph (9). On July 1st in the year 1931 and in each year thereafter so long as any Preferred Stock remains outstanding, the Corporation shall make available out of the net/assets in excess of capital or the surplus of the Corporation, which would at the time be legally available for the declaration of dividends, a sum sufficient to redeem on the first day of October next following three per cent. (3%) of the maximum aggregate amount of Preferred Stock which shall have been issued prior to such July 1st, regardless of whether all of such previously issued Preferred Stock shall then be outstanding; and such sum shall be applied to the redemption on such October 1st of shares of Preferred Stock determined by lot. In any year during which this sinking fund provision shall be operative, the Corporation, instead of making available all or part of said sum in cash, may surrender to the sinking fund, not later than July 1st, shares of Preferred Stock which, after being outstanding, have been purchased or otherwise acquired by the Corporation and have not previously been surrendered to the sinking fund, and the Corporation shall be credited against the cash sinking fund requirement for that year with a sum equal to the redemption price as of Cotober 1st of the shares of Preferred Stock so surrendered to the sinking fund. No Preferred Stock shall be purchased or redeemed under this provision or otherwise during the continuance of any default in the payment of cumulative 7% dividends on the Preferred Stock. No Preferred Stock redeemed by the sinking fund or otherwise or surrendered to the sinking fund shall be re-issued or otherwise disposed of, and no Preferred Stock shall be issued in lieu thereof, and the Corporation may, from time to time cause all such shares so redeemed or surrendered to be retired in the manner provided by law.
