Dear Sir:

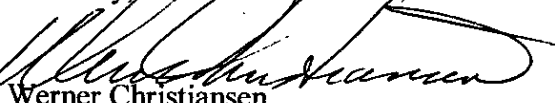

In January 2001 I wrote a letter to the Department of State and the Florida Department of Revenue informing them that Taylor Orr & Co., Inc. had moved from Jacksonville, Florida to Walhalla, South Carolina. At that time I requested that the Department of State change our address in their record, forward the Annual Report renewal forms and also a Change of Registered Agent Form to our new address. I was the Registered agent at that time as well as being the Secretary of the Corporation. Since I moved the Corporation to South Carolina I have also been busy building my new home. The Florida Department of Revenue acted on my request and I have been filing all of our quarterly returns on time. Sadly due to the move and building a new home I did not follow up on the lack of response by the Department of State to my requests.

Last week I received the only correspondence I have received since my January request, thanks to your mail being forwarded to me by a friend at the Corporations old address. This was the first notice I received of late filing of the annual report.

Enclosed please find our application for reinstatement including the delayed change of registered agent. Also enclosed is our check for $150.00, the annual report fee and request that the reinstatement fee be waived since in January I did notify the Department of State of Florida of the change of address at the same time I notified the Department of Revenue. For some reason they got the change but your department did not.

Your assistance in this matter is most appreciated.

Sincerely,

Werner Christiansen
Secretary
