Re: Document # 714973: Application for Reinstatement

To Whom it May Concern:

Please be advised that I telephoned your office on 12/2/98 about the above and explained the reason therefor. The Notice your Office sent out was mailed out to the former Secretary/Director: Doris M. Akers, who has not held those offices since December 1997. She mistakenly thought the Annual Report Form was a communication from the Washington headquarters of the AARP, and did nothing with it. She also received the second Form and sent it to me and I in turn gave it to the then Treasurer who was installed last December along with me as President and another person as Secretary who later left office. I asked the said Treasurer if she had filed the Annual Report Form along with the $61.25 fee, and she replied that she had sent it in within a week of the time I had given it to her, and I believed her.

In mid-November I received the Notice of Administrative Dissolution or Revocation, that was forwarded to me from the former Secretary. I then called the Treasurer who said she had filed the prior report with the check, and would give or send me copies. When I received nothing within the next few days I sent her a letter, demanding a full accounting. I received no answer and when I finally got through to her after many unreturned attempts, she said she was the Treasurer of another organization and mistakenly sent that one, but not the AARP report. She said she would file and send me a copy, but refused to return my other contact attempts made prior to the Board of Directors meeting on 12/2, and did not respond to my written demand for an accounting.

I went to the bank on 12/2/98 (NationsBank formerly Barnett) before the directors meeting and found that the checking account was overdrawn. There had been no deposits made although funds had been turned over to her. Apparently previously deposited funds had been used to pay the AARP expenses of printing, copying, supplies and mailing. Most if not all current funds received from members' dues and Newsletter advertising, etc. were apparently never deposited. I have ordered bank statements for the past year to determine what happened and how much was involved. Apparently the savings account of the Chapter was not touched as the bank only had the old signature cards. The matter is now being checked out by AARP district officers and we are trying to get the financial records. I transferred funds from savings to cover the overdrawn checking account and then closed both accounts and we will be setting up new ones when we get the Secretary's Minutes and a new Treasurer. I am enclosing per your instructions (1) The Application for Reinstatement with the new officers and directors and their addresses, (2) a Cashier's Check for $61.25 as new accounts have not yet been opened, (3) a copy of the letter to the former Treasurer requesting all records and (4) a copy of the last bank statement showing the overdraft status.
