Re: CRC Partners, Ltd., Loewenstern Family Partners, Ltd.

Dear Sirs:

This firm represents the above referenced entities. It is our understanding that the certificates of authority for both partnerships were revoked by the Florida Secretary of State due to their failure to file annual reports for 1997. Our clients have indicated to us that they did not receive from your office either the annual reports for filing or the notices that were required to be sent by you indicating your intent to revoke the respective certificates of authority of the partnerships, which notices are to be sent sixty days prior to such revocation. Accordingly, our clients were unable to file their annual reports in a timely manner. We have enclosed herewith affidavits executed on behalf of the partnerships attesting to their failure to receive the aforementioned items. Also enclosed are the Limited Partnership Annual Reports for 1997 for each of the entities, together with a check from each partnership, made payable to the Secretary of State, in an amount equal to the annual filing fee and supplemental fee for each partnership.

We respectfully request that the Florida Secretary of State reinstate both of the partnerships and waive all reinstatement fees and/or penalties resulting from the failure to file the annual reports for the reasons noted above. Please let us know at your earliest convenience what action you intend to take with respect to this matter.

Very truly yours,

RUDEN, McCLOSKY, SMITH,
