Article Fourteen: Taxation Immunity

SECTION 14.1 – IT is herein expressly provided that the Board of Trustees of Hurri-Cain Printing shall never at any time either possess or exercise any power which would by its possession or exercise cause the income of this Business Trust to be taxed as though this Business Trust were a Statutory (Grantor) Trust, taxable under the provisions of any government or political subdivision thereof, including, but not limited to, the Internal Revenue Code, Title 26, of the United States Code.

I. Internal Revenue Regulation, 26, CFR, Section 301.7701-4(b):

"(b) Business Trusts - There are other arrangements known as trusts because the legal title to property is conveyed to trustees for the benefit of Beneficiaries, but which are not classified as trusts for purposes of the Internal Revenue Code, because they are not simply arrangements to protect and conserve the property for the Beneficiaries." (Emphasis added.)

II. Restatement of the Law of Trusts, 2d, American Law Institute, Washington, D.C.:

"The Restatement of this subject does not deal with business trusts . . ."

"Matters Excluded: A statement of the rules of law relating to the employment of a trust as a device for carrying on business is not within the scope of the Restatement of this subject. Although many of the rules applicable to trusts are applied to business trusts, yet many of the rules are not applied, and there are other rules, which are applicable only to business trusts. The business trust is a special kind of business association and can best be dealt with in connection with other business associations." (pp. 2, 4.)

III. American Jurisprudence, Second Edition, Vol. 13, Business Trusts:

"The motive in forming such a trust is generally not considered by the courts in determining validity, and it has been held that a business trust is not rendered illegal because of the fact that it was formed for the express purpose of reducing or avoiding taxation." (Pp. 380)

IV. Executives' Business Law, Chp. 15. Business Trusts – Organization:

"Reasons for Creating Business Trusts. . . . it is often wise to adopt the trust form of organization . . . You are relieved from making a multitude of reports to the state government, and often heavy, unnecessary taxes are dispensed with"

"It is not unlawful for a citizen to place his property in such forms that the taxation will be reduced. This is true even though his only purpose is to avoid taxation."

(Sec. 172, 951- Emphasis added.)
