Article Fifth

Each of the holders of the issued and outstanding shares of Common Stock of the corporation shall have the right to subscribe for any new capital stock, whether of a class now existing or hereafter created, or for any securities convertible into capital stock hereafter issued by the corporation in proportion to their respective holdings of stock at the time of such issue.

The corporation shall have the right, in case of the sale of shares of stock of any stockholder, to purchase said shares at the lowest price at which such stockholder is willing to sell said shares before the same shall be sold by him to any other party; provided, however, that the corporation shall exercise its right to purchase hereunder within thirty (30) days after such stockholder shall have notified the corporation in writing of his desire to sell said share and the price at which he is willing to sell the same, and if the corporation shall decide to purchase said shares, such stockholder, shall, upon tender of the purchase price thereof, transfer to the corporation said shares so sold, and if the corporation shall not elect to purchase said shares within said thirty (30) day period, then such stockholder may, at any time within thirty (30) days after the expiration of said thirty (30) day period, sell said shares to any other party but at not less than the price at which the same were offered to the corporation.
