Dear Mr. Toner,

While researching the issue of whether our company, Advanced Interactive Systems, Inc. is in good standing in Florida, I found the following:

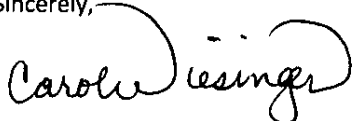

In 1995, a company called Advanced Computer Cables, Inc. registered a Domestic (Florida) corporation with the Secretary of State under the name of Advanced Interactive Systems, Inc. (P95000058225) The principals of this company, Knoles & Young, are not persons associated with our company.

According to the events detail on the FL SOS website, this company was administratively dissolved on 8/23/1996 due to the lack of filing an annual report.

Our company was incorporated in Delaware on 3/22/1996 with the name Advanced Interactive Systems, Inc. In 2006, someone here realized that we should be registered in Florida. Apparently, they did a search on our name and thought that the company P95000058225 was us and that we had gone inactive. They did not notice that the company was incorporated in Florida rather than Delaware. They applied for a reinstatement and paid the fees to become active. We have had a couple lapses since then, but when we noticed it we always applied for reinstatement and paid the penalties. In short, we have been making a good faith effort to keep this company in good standing, not realizing that it was not ours. At the current time, all the information on your website is correct for our company except that we are listed as a domestic corporation when we are actually a foreign one.

It is our hope that we can have the records for this company updated to reflect that we are a foreign corporation and we can continue to use this name. If that is not possible, please let me know what steps we need to take to get back into good standing in Florida.

Sincerely,

Carol Wiesinger
Senior Accountant
