To who I May Concern:

I have just received a late filing fee saying that I did not pay the Corporate Dues. I know that it got as far as Oakland Park Post office, where I bought stamps and gave the envelope to the clerk and watched her put it in the basket. I ^{also} called the Post office to have them trace the letter when I received my delinquent Corporate fee. I called the bank to see if it had been cashed while your letter was in transit. They said not yet but keep the faith.

a) Post office - we do not trace letters anymore. Although I didn't certify the letter, like a big dummy I thought it would get there as it always did after working at the Post office for 4 years. I should have known; they only answer the call (sometimes write something down, mostly they doodle). Agree with the Patron, hang up and that's it. Did I mail it? That's what they said.

b) The check was listed # 0686 no envelope just the filing book. I have diligently searched my residence, car, and desk. My husband is a 100% service connected veteran on a fixed income. This would set our fixed income considerably. Now he is extremely paranoid and depression and this would not help. It would also disrupt a very complex budget.

This is not my first corporation and I don't believe I've ever been later than a week and that was to ~~delete~~ keep from sending a bouncing check.

The $8.75 check is being sent so that I will know the status of my Corp. ASAP.

Other corporations I have been directly involved

① OAS & E Inc

② TLC Inc.

③ MaMaBeck Charters

④ FA & M. Inc.

I am hoping that you will not charge me for not sending a guaranteed letter. I have learned my lesson.

Sincerely,

Becky Mead
