11. The second major question is how can we best protect the public interest in the use of the information that is collected by the government? The information that is collected by the government is often used for purposes other than those for which it was originally collected. This is a problem that has been recognized by the courts and the legislature. The courts have held that the government has a duty to protect the public interest in the use of the information that it collects. The legislature has also recognized this problem and has passed laws to protect the public interest in the use of the information that it collects.
