11. The fact that the proposed amendments to the proposed Code of Ethics for Judges do not address the subject of the proposed changes regarding the proposed Code of Ethics for Judges is not a basis for concluding that the proposed amendments are not in the public interest. The proposed amendments are in the public interest because they are necessary to ensure the integrity of the judicial system and to maintain public confidence in the judiciary. The proposed amendments are also in the public interest because they are necessary to ensure the independence of the judiciary and to prevent any potential conflicts of interest. The proposed amendments are also in the public interest because they are necessary to ensure the transparency of the judicial system and to provide for the public's right to know. The proposed amendments are also in the public interest because they are necessary to ensure the accountability of the judiciary and to provide for the public's right to hold the judiciary accountable. The proposed amendments are also in the public interest because they are necessary to ensure the efficiency of the judicial system and to provide for the public's right to a timely trial. The proposed amendments are also in the public interest because they are necessary to ensure the fairness of the judicial system and to provide for the public's right to a fair trial.
