The members initially have equal one-third equal interests in the Limited Liability Company for all purposes. Unless provided otherwise in these Articles, the Limited Liability Company's operating agreement, or other appropriate documentation:

- (a) The members have equal rights to the management, properties, capital, profits, and losses of the Limited Liability Company.
- (b) Any action by or on behalf of the Limited Liability Company requires the consent, approval, joinder, or authorization by a majority in interest of the members.
- (c) Any deeds, mortgages, or other instruments relating to any interest in real property owned by the Limited Liability Company must be executed by at least two of the members.

Article 6. - Operating Agreement

The initial adoption of the Limited Liability Company's operating agreement requires the unanimous approval of the members, as does the adoption of any amendments, unless such operating agreement expressly provides otherwise with respect to any such amendment.

Section 6.01 Additional Members

Such operating agreement may grant the right, if any, to admit additional members and the terms and conditions of such admission. Absent such grant, however, the admission of additional members, and the terms and conditions of their admission, requires the unanimous approval of the members.

Section 6.02 Continuing Business

Such operating agreement also may grant the right, if any, of the remaining members of the Limited Liability Company to continue the business on the death, retirement, resignation, expulsion, bankruptcy, or dissolution of a member, or upon the occurrence of any other specified event that terminates the continued membership of a member in the Limited Liability Company.

To WITNESS the foregoing, the undersigned has executed these Articles April 10, 2001.
