ARTICLE III MEMBERSHIP RESTRICTIONS

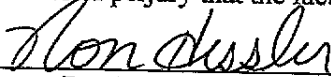

Additional members may be admitted to the Company upon the unanimous consent of its members.

Any member may transfer his/her membership in this Company to any other person, subject to the conditions set out in this Article. However, the transferee shall not acquire thereby the right to participate in the management of the Company. The transferee shall only acquire the right to share in any profits or other compensation or the return of contribution that would have otherwise been paid to the transferring member.

On the death, retirement, resignation, expulsion, bankruptcy, or dissolution of a member, or the occurrence of any other event that terminates the continued membership of a member of the limited liability company, the remaining members shall have the right to continue the business on unanimous consent of the remaining members.

A member certificate shall be given to each member which shall include the following information: the name and principal address of the Company; the name of the member; the value of the capital contribution to the member; the signatures of all members; and, a statement in bold print stating that the membership certificate is issued pursuant to an operating agreement and that the transfer or other encumbrance of the membership represented by the certificate of membership is subject to certain restrictions as set out in the operating agreement.

(In accordance with section 608.408(3), Florida Statutes, the execution of this document constitutes an affirmation under the penalties of perjury that the facts stated herein are true.)
