Confidentiality Notice. The information contained in this message is intended only for the confidential use of its designated recipients and, to the extent that it is being transmitted to or on behalf of a client of the firm, it may be governed by attorney-client privilege. If you are not the intended recipient, we apologize for having sent you this message in error and hereby notify you that your further review, retention, copying, or dissemination of this message is strictly prohibited. If you believe that you have received this communication in error, please notify the sender immediately and destroy all copies of this message. If you are the intended recipient, please preserve the attorney-client privilege by not showing this message to others and otherwise keeping its contents confidential.

Malicious Data. It is your responsibility to scan this and all future messages from the sender or the law firm for malicious data transmissions, including but not limited to computer viruses. The sender and the law firm disclaim any responsibility for all malicious data transmissions included with this communication and all future communications. We hereby disclaim all incidental and consequential damages associated with the transmission and receipt of any communication we send to you.

Evidentiary Privilege. To the extent that this message is a communication to settle a claim, all evidentiary limitations on its use are hereby expressly made applicable to its contents.

Federal Fair Debt Collections Practices Act Notice. To the extent that this message is an effort to collect a consumer debt, you are hereby notified that all information provided in response to this message may be used for debt collection purposes. Unless you dispute the validity of the debt within thirty days after receipt of the notice, we will assume it is valid. If you notify us within this thirty-day period that you dispute this debt or any portion of it, we will mail you verification of the debt or, should a judgment exist, a copy of the judgment against you. Upon your request made within this thirty-day period, we will provide you with the name of the original creditor if different from the current creditor.

IRS Circular 230 Notice. To comply with U.S. Treasury Department and IRS regulations, we are required to advise you that, unless expressly stated otherwise, any U.S. federal tax advice contained in this e-mail, including attachments to this email, is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used, by any person for the purpose of avoiding penalties under the U.S. Internal Revenue Code or promoting, marketing, or recommending to another party any transaction or matter addressed in this e-mail or attachment.

Uniform Electronic Transactions Act Notice. If this communication concerns negotiation of a contract or agreement, unless otherwise expressly stated in writing, the Uniform Electronic Transactions Act does not apply to this communication. Contract formation in this matter occurs subject to final review and manually affixing of handwritten signatures on original documents.
