Dear Octavia,

I am writing in response to an amended name change rejection notice received by my client listed above. This client elected to change their tax status through the IRS to be an S-corp effective January 2020 along with a name change. Upon calling the Division of Corporations, we received incorrect information and were told we needed to submit articles of conversion or open a new corporation. This is incorrect because the company is still an LLC, only to be taxed as an 1120-S through the IRS.

In February 2020, we opened a new corporation (document number: P2000016932). And let the original LLC go inactive. Upon receiving the correct information, regarding a simple name change amendment, we reactivated the LLC, and sent in the amendment to have the name changed. This request was denied due to the same name of the Corporation we had set up. As of January 27th 2021, we have dissolved the corporation with no intention to reinstate it. We give permission for that name to be used.

Please accept this name change and update it for the company whose document number is L16000049334. If you find it to be acceptable, please consider refunding the client for the initial fees to set up the corporation as we were given incorrect information as to how to process this name change.

Please feel free to contact me with any further questions.

Thank you,

Molly Amuso
Accountant
