Hi Maureen,

My name is Kyle Brumbley with the Florida Department of State, You can have a corporation and file an LLC with the same name as long as you are the owner of the other company. Since you are, all I would need is a letter stating that you are the owner of the Corporation and that you give permission to use that name on the LLC filing you have submitted and then sign the letter and email it back to me. Once I get the letter I can get the LLC processed and pushed to the website for you.
