2000 Annual Report

Dear Mr. Toner:

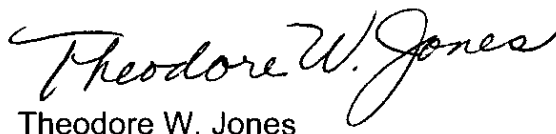

It is my understanding that Ms. Barbara Egolf, an attorney with the Orlando office of Baker & Hostetler, the attorneys for the above-captioned Florida Corporation, has contacted you regarding the late filing of the current year's Annual Report. My wife, Jeanne W. Jones, is sole owner, sole director and sole operator of this business. She had a severe stroke on January 10 of this year and was hospitalized until July 5. She is now confined to a wheel chair and has sustained some brain damage, which has deprived her of her speech abilities. Fortunately, she still has the ability to comprehend.

Since Mrs. Jones is the sole operator of the business, needless to say, her business affairs have been entangled since the time of her stroke. Although I have been attempting to handle her personal and business affairs since the onset of her illness, I have no recollection of ever having received the Annual Report. In all fairness, however, I should point out that it could have been received and, in the confusion of sorting out her affairs, either misplaced or otherwise lost.

In view of the above, the Company is requesting the State of Florida to waive penalties added to the regular filing fee. I believe the State's records will show that in the past years the reports have always been filed on time and the fees promptly paid. Mrs. Jones would appreciate anything the State can do to accommodate her request for a waiver of penalties.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Very truly yours,

Theodore W. Jones
