1. The first step in the process of developing a new product is to identify a market need. This is often done through market research, which involves gathering information about the target market and its needs. Once a market need has been identified, the next step is to develop a product concept. This concept should be based on the market need and should be unique and innovative. The product concept is then developed into a detailed product plan, which outlines the features, benefits, and costs of the product. The product plan is then used to develop a marketing strategy, which outlines how the product will be promoted and sold. Finally, the product is developed and manufactured, and the marketing strategy is implemented.
