5. No part of the net earning of the corporation shall inure the benefit of, or be distributable to its members, trustees, officers, or other private persons, except that the corporations shall be authorized and empowered to pay reasonable compensation for services rendered and to make payments and distributions in furtherance of the purposes set forth in the clause hereof. Notwithstanding any other provision of this document, the corporation shall not carry on any other activities not permitted to be carried on by an organization exempt from federal income tax under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

6. The corporation shall have no capital stock, pay no dividends, distribute no part of the income to its members, directors or officers, and private property of subscribers, members, directors and officers and shall not be liable for the debts of the corporation.
7. To promote purposes within the meaning of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or the corresponding provisions of the future United States Internal Revenue Law) and the regulations pertaining thereto.
8. In the event of dissolution of the corporation, all its assets remaining after the payment of all costs and expenses of such dissolution shall be disbursed to a charitable organization ruled exempt by the Internal Revenue Service under Section 501(c)(3) and Section 170(c)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 (or corresponding provisions of any subsequent revenue laws) having goals and objectives similar to those of this corporation as may be selected by the Board of Directors and none of the assets will be distributed to any members, officers, or directors of this corporation.
