The following paragraphs are added at the end of Article III: Specifically, this corporation is founded for charitable religious purposes within the meaning of the IRS Code sec 501(c)(3), namely to establish and maintain a synagogue for Orthodox Jewish Chabad Worship and there to provide Jewish religious worship services, religious education, celebrations, spiritual events and helpful services to the Jewish communities and the general community of the area. It will carry out all its activities according to Orthodox Chabad Judaism as based on the Code of Jewish Law (the Shulchan Aruch) and the Jewish Law code of Rabbi Schneur Zalman of Liadi and subsequent works of Chabad sages, all as understood by its Rabbi, the incorporator Yechezkel Unsdrofer. He has been appointed Rabbi according to Jewish law. He is the ultimate authority in all matters pertaining to Ethics, Spirituality and Jewish Law, including the sole right to determine which matters should be regarded as matters of Ethics, Spirituality and Jewish Law and thus require his decision. This corporation shall not, except to an insubstantial degree, engage in activities or exercise powers that are not in furtherance of its charitable religious purpose. This corporation is empowered to contract, borrow funds, rent, buy or sell personal or real property, in order to provide a suitable structure for Jewish worship and a religious education as well as a parsonage for the Rabbi and his family. It is empowered to supply all the foods, religious items and buildings required for Jewish life, including, but not limited to, Religious Articles, Kosher Food, Immersion Pools, or transportation to any event or location which in the view of the Rabbi is required in the fulfillment of Religious Duties. It will be entitled to charge a price for making such religious resources available. This corporation will not distribute dividends to any persons, or attempt to influence legislation or participate in political campaigns of any sort. In the event of this corporation's dissolution, all funds and remaining assets will be distributed to other 501(c)(3) recognized charitable corporations with similar goals.
