We seek to unify efforts and talents for the celebration of our patron saints, including the important celebration of San Rafael Archangel and the celebration of our Virgin of Candelaria that are celebrated yearly in the Church of Holy Cross , Indiantown, Florida. Teach the new generations that are born in the United States, not only to observe the important values of this great country that has opened its doors to us, but , at the same time to value our culture and country of origin. In order to transmit this culture to our children, we will foster cultural programs such as: bringing marimba groups from Guatemala encourage the yearly visits of the elected Maya princesses and promote events where the folkloric dancers are shared with the community at large. We plan to encourage the youth to fulfill their full potential and encourage the learning of our Maya language of Akateco, here in the United States so that the language may remain alive for future generations. We will focus our work so that the youth integrate in this great country, become responsible citizens yet maintain the Maya culture alive for them and future generations
