Dear Sir:

When the Articles of Incorporation and other papers were filed on the above corporation on June 17, 1998, they reflected the corporation office was to be moved. That move has now occurred with the signing of a lease. Enclosed please find Notice of Change of Registered Office.

Also, a few hours after the Articles of Incorporation were filed, the corporation became aware of a just reason to have its original and current Board of Directors identified by name in its Articles of Incorporation. Please find enclosed for filing an addition to Article V of those Articles of Incorporation.

Finally, the corporation has yet to receive any funds to use to open a corporation bank account. As I interpret the fees for the above items from the Florida Not For Profit packet I received from your office, the fee for the change of registered office is thirty-five dollars and no cents ($35.00) and the fee for the amendment to the Articles of Incorporation is thirty-five dollars and no cents ($35.00). That total's seventy dollars and no cents ($70.00). A check for that amount is enclosed written on my personal checking account.

Sincerely,

Carl J. Duncan, Ph.D.
Vice President
