ARTICLE IV

The manner in which the directors are elected or appointed is as follows:

Upon acceptance of the Articles of Incorporation, the initial directors, named herein, shall hold an organizational meeting, at the call of the majority of the directors, to complete the organization of the corporation by appointing officers, adopting bylaws, and carrying on any other business brought before the meeting.

Upon completion of this initial organizational meeting:

Directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the board of directors. The time and place of the meeting shall be determined by the board of directors. A director shall hold office for a one (1) year term and until his or her successor has been elected or until his or her earlier resignation, removal from office, or death. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the Board of Directors or its chair or to the corporation. A director may be removed from office with or without cause by the vote or agreement in writing by a majority of all votes of the board at that time. If a vacancy occurs on the Board of Directors, it may be filled by the affirmative vote of the majority of the remaining directors, even though the remaining director(s), as the case may be, constitute less than a quorum. If a vacancy is not so filled or if no director remains, by the circuit court of the county where the registered office of the corporation is located, when directors are elected to fill a vacancy for an unexpired term of his or her predecessor in office, such term is to continue until the next election of the directors by the board of directors. The board of directors may hold regular or special meetings in or out of state if a majority of the directors are present. meetings can be called by the chair of the board of directors at any time, provided a majority of the board is in attendance. The board of directors may conduct meetings through the use of any means of communication of which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. Any director participating in a meeting by this alternate means of communication is deemed to be present and in person for purposes of the meeting.

All directors of this corporation must be natural citizens who are 18 years of age or older and subscribe to the doctrines and beliefs of Jesus Christ. The board of directors of the corporation may consist of three or more individuals but can never be less than three. The number of directors can be increased or decreased by an affirmative vote of all the directors at that time. Directors may vote either in person or by proxy. Attendance at a meeting of the board of directors constitutes waiver of notice and waiver of any and all objections to the place of the meeting, the time of the meeting, or the manner in which it has been called or convened, unless the member is attending a meeting solely for the purpose of stating, at the beginning of the meeting, any such objection or objections to the transaction of affairs.
