- Article 2. The principal place of business and mailing address of the Corporation is 1100 South Delaney Avenue, #F100, Orlando, Florida 32806-1243.
- Article 3. The Corporation has several related reasons for existence set forth as follows:
- A. The Corporation will dedicate itself to earning money to fund arts organizations through one of the following three methods (paragraphs B, C, and D of this Article).
 - B. The Corporation will provide special events services for organization clients, whether for-profit or nonprofit, that choose to hire the Corporation. The Corporation may serve as a consultant, designer, or producer for its clients. The Corporation will charge for its services reasonable fees based on the individual requirements of the task. The Corporation may choose to charge for its services based on the ability of the client to pay; the Corporation may even choose to provide its services at no cost to the client when prudent business practices allow for such a choice.
 - C. The Corporation will produce special events for nonprofit organization clients that are designed to raise moneys for the client; these events are known commonly as fund-raisers. The Corporation will specifically seek out arts organizations as clients for whom to produce these fund-raising events, but may produce such events for other nonprofit organizations. In the course of creating and producing such an event, the Corporation will provide, as needed, design, planning, management, and funding services. The Corporation may solicit for sponsors or underwriters of such an event so long as the client is part of the sponsor selection process.

The Corporation will establish guidelines and procedures for the raising of funds and the granting of moneys to organizations; the Corporation may elect to grant moneys to organizations without the necessity of a formal application procedure. The Corporation will endeavor to make known this policy of "funding the arts" through marketing and publicity campaigns.
 - E. The Corporation may perform any tasks or services necessary to accomplish the purposes of this Article.
 - F. Any use of the word nonprofit with regard to client organizations shall be interpreted to mean that the organization shall be nonprofit in nature rather than legally. The nonprofit nature of the organization shall be construed to mean the organization would be qualified to incorporate as a nonprofit in the State of Florida if the organization chose to do so.
