Gentlemen:

I am writing to you regarding my client, Transworld Telecom, Inc.

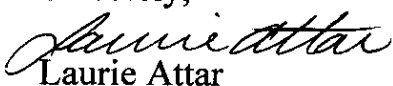

My client has advised me that their bank has advised them that they are delinquent in filing their 2001 Uniform Business Report.

I have reviewed my records and have found that the report was completed, signed, and mailed with a check back on March 16, 2001. The check had not cleared the bank as of March 31, 2001, and we do not have the April bank statement yet to see if the check is still outstanding.

I called your office today and have been advised by Carol that you have not received the report or check. I do not know what happened to the report or check. I do have a copy of the report in my files. Carol has authorized me to make a copy of my copy, white out the signature, and have the officer sign with an original signature on the copy, and send it with a replacement check. Since the time the report was originally completed, my client has moved their office, so I was advised by Carol to correct the address also. Carol authorized me to have my client send the same amount of $150.00 due to the circumstances.

If you have any questions, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Laurie Attar

Encl.
