To Whom It May Concern;

I am so very sorry for being late for I am late on just about everything for a variety of reasons. My small business sells advertising in the tourism industry and since the terrible 911 event, War, The Economy and the fact that people are just not flying to the areas which I work for vacation, those that can afford to go on vacation, my small business has taken a major plunge and I am barely surviving. My business is down over 45% and that barely pays the bills and allows me to get a bit of food for my little family. On top of that, I had a small office space for the past 3 years which cost me $827.00 per month and I was there on a month to month basis (no lease). The owner of the building sold it and the new landlord upped the rent to $1420.00 per month plus tried to make me sign a very unfriendly lease agreement which I fondly call "The Communist Manifesto" which was ridiculous. So I had to move my little business into the home. My small business was out of order, so to say, due to the move for almost 2 months which put me behind on everything. I was behind on our mortgage, credit cards, taxes and so on. I owed my accountant over $500.00, and could not take advantage of his kindness during my extremely down time. So I just put everything I received into the box of info for my accountant, thinking that when and if I could get caught up a bit, I would give the box of stuff and he as always would let me know what to do. Well, when I recently gave him the box, He pulled out the Corporation Annual Report and told me that I was late. So here I am, I can not afford the late fee, Please help me. There are so many other reasons for this lateness as well, Health Issues, Broken Vehicles, No

Health Insurance, We rescue abused and abandoned animals which need care and feeding, Everything is getting so expensive and so on and so on. Please, If you could see it in your heart and soul to allow me to not have to pay the late fee because I just can not afford it...and I really mean I can not afford it, I have been taking cold showers since November since our water heater broke and can not afford to fix it, I thank god for the small grunts and snapper we catch (fishing from the shore with hand line), we eat a lot of fish and rice to get by. Things are real tuff. I do not play the system for assistance of any kind, I will make things work as I can and in God's time. You know....God doesn't give us more than we can handle..... But some times I wonder about that. But anyway, please help.

Thank You for Your Attention In This Matter and May Your God Bless You,
Graciously and Sincerely; Chris Uhland
