To whom it may concern,

I'm writing you this letter to inform of a situation that my company is in at this time. Alarm link, inc. sent a check to the Florida dept of state on April 12, 2000. To renew our corporation. The check was made out for $150.00. At that time my administrator informed me that it had all been taken care of. That was the last I heard about it. We saw that the check was cashed. We have recently received a notice of administrative dissolution or revocation in the mail. After receiving this noticed I called the department of state up and they told me that the check was received but late. Then the dept of state sent a letter stating that there would be a late fee, which we never received. After speaking with your representative, and to make a long story short, what I think had happened is that my administrator who was supposed send the check out to you had not sent it on time. Then when you sent your first noticed she threw it out, so that I would not have know that she sent it in late... (so she would not get in trouble) since then she was fired for other reasons. Your representative informed me to write this letter to you explaining the situation. Please take into account this letter and inform me if there is anything you could do to help.

Thank you,

Richard Possick
Pres.
