5. OTHER PROVISIONS:

Indemnification:

The corporation shall indemnify each director, officer, employee and agent of the corporation, from liability at any time incurred as a direct or indirect result of, or in the course of, that party's position with the corporation or that party's direct or indirect service to the corporation in such capacity, in any such event, to the fullest extent that is permitted under applicable law. The corporation shall advance, to any such party, such party's reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, for such party's defense against such liability, in each case, to the fullest extent that is permitted under applicable law. The chief executive officer of the corporation, provided the chief executive officer is not seeking to be indemnified, or if the chief executive officer is seeking indemnification, the first person who the bylaws of the corporation may permit to assume such role in the absence of the chief executive officer and who is not seeking indemnification, may authorize indemnification and advancement of expenses and may determine whether any conditions to indemnification or advancement of expenses have been met. If the bylaws do not provide for a such chain of succession, or if all persons in such chain are seeking indemnification, the general counsel to the corporation may authorize indemnification and advancement of expenses and make such determinations.

C T Corporation System is familiar with and accepts the obligations provided for in Section 607.0505 of the Florida Statutes.
