RE: Application for Reinstatement for Tangled Blue, Inc. P00000041782

Dear Mr. Smith:

Your office recently sent me a Certificate of Administrative Dissolution and an Application for Reinstatement related to my corporation.

Not knowing exactly what this was, or why my corporation was dissolved, I asked my accountant. He explained to me that I should have paid the annual renewal fee (of $150.00) on or before May 1, 2002 to keep my corporation active in your system. He explained that I should have received an original Uniform Business Report from your office in January or February. He explained to me what it looked like.

I do not recall ever receiving such a form from your office. Throughout the first part of the year, my (former) husband and I were going through a bitter divorce, which included a child custody battle and bitter negotiations on who would end up with the business (Tangled Blue, Inc.). During that time, much of my mail went missing, because my husband was running the business half of the time and I was running it the other half. In addition, I moved to a new residence during this time.

As it turned out, I purchased my ex-husband's interest in the business and will continue to own and run the business in the future. I will make sure that future year's UBRs get filed and paid on time.

In consideration of my special circumstances during the first part of this year, I respectfully request that you waive the reinstatement fee of $600.00.

I have completed the reinstatement application and enclosed it, and a check in the amount of $150.00, with this letter.

Thank you in advance for your favorable consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

Shelly A. Rajani
President
