Re: BioTech S. E., Inc. - 2001 Report

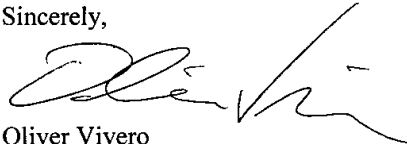

I am enclosing the Uniform Business Report for 2001 for the above corporation as well as the original address page sent to me in hopes that your division will be kind enough to waive the penalty amount assessed due to the fact that the original report, which was apparently mailed during the period of my move, was never received.

Up to this date, I am still not receiving all of my mail and much of it is returned to the post office by the new occupants with the request that it be forwarded to me. The people who moved out of my new residence are still receiving mail there. Apparently the post office has a problem keeping up with the forwarding and only through the kindness of the new occupants of my former residence do I receive many pieces of mail which the postal service still neglects to forward, even though I've given them three -- yes, three -- forwarding orders.

My business is a small one and cannot at this time afford to spend the penalty amount. I would therefore be forced to default and have the corporation dissolved, creating additional hardship.

Your consideration would be sincerely appreciated.

Sincerely,

Oliver Vivero
