To whom it may Concern:

I was looking in the internet in the corporation and status and I found Aircraft Tools & GSE Inc to be inactive. I have filled out the reinstatement form to insure that the company is put back to a active status. The reason for the company becoming in this status is because the company had moved and had informed of new address yet never received any documentation to confirm the address was changed in the system.

for 2002

Since I have informed prior to the address change in writing to the state and never received any additional information concerning the change. I am not sure what are the fees that the company is liable for at the moment and what additional information is needed from the company. If you would be so kind in providing that information I will make sure that it will be taking care. Thank you in advance for your kindness and helpfulness.

Sincerely,

Alexander Rosado

President
