Re: Annual Filing for Year 2002

Dear Sir/Madam:

My Company was organized in 2001 to provide cleaning services for a small number of buildings that my father and mother and I clean every week and some of the owners advised us that I should incorporate for sales tax purposes and obtain a sales tax license because the services were taxable.

When I filed this years 2001 form I was not aware that I had to insert my Federal Identification Number and probably when I received the notification back to re-mailed I filed it thinking that it had been filed.

Not until several days ago when my accountant told me that the corporation had been administratively dissolved did I know that what had happened.

Because of my lack of knowledge of the laws I failed to provide the FEI when requested. This, I assure you, will not be repeated. As you can see from your records, I did pay the required filing fee of $150.00.

I respectfully request from you, due to our small economic resources provided from cleaning services that you waive the penalties involved in this case and re-instate my Company. I will always be very grateful for your kind consideration to my plea. I am attaching a copy of the required form with the appropriate FEI number inserted.

Once again, thank you very much for your kind consideration.

Sincerely,

Ana S. Delgadolesmes
