To Whom It May Concern:

We are submitting this UBR (from you web site), letter of explanation, and $300.00 fee per instructions from your office.

It was brought to my attention today while at my first consultation with an accountant that I had not received an UBR form, which should have been filed by last May 1, and again this year. He said I should have received a second notice also. He looked on your web site and it showed my s-corporation inactive and dissolved because of my not filing. He printed the information on your web site and instructed me to contact the local Department of Revenue. After talking to my accountant and your office, I am now aware this needs to be filed every year. Your office pointed out if I don't get the form in the mail it can be downloaded as I did now. Being new to the corporate world I realize professional help is necessary. I want to thank your people for being so helpful.

This letter is to explain I did not get the form and did not know to file. I assure you I am aware of the requirement now.

Thank you for your help in resolving my problem
