RE: Document# P01000062756 – Swerdloff & Perry Surveying

To Whom it May Concern:

On Tuesday, October 18, 2022, I was alerted by my bank representative that my above referenced former company (Swerdloff & Perry Surveying) had been reinstated last month (9/9/2022). As I researched this further, I realized that my name had been fraudulently signed electronically giving permission for this to occur.

The Current Registered Agent and the individual, Bryan Wells of Venice, who paid for all the reinstatement fees (per your office) has never been known to me or anyone associated with this firm.

This business was placed inactive with the Department of Business and Professional Regulation in 2018 and needs to remain that way with the State because of the rules put in place regarding surveying businesses.

I have absolutely no idea how this could happen but I will assume that there is attempted fraud behind it. My corporate counsel has filed Articles of Dissolution this week with the State. I have made a report to the FBI and I would like to receive documentation from the State that you have received this letter.
