Notice of Dissolution, Document #PO1000104975

Dear Sir:

Today I received the Notice of Corporation Dissolution which I have enclosed. This is the first notice I have received, and the only reason I received it is that my tax accountant handles the work for the firm that I used to represent, and he saw it at their location and brought it to me today. My tax accountant is willing to document this circumstance if you wish.

My tax accountant tells me that an initial notice of the Uniform Business Report would have been sent to me at that old address early in the year (he assumed it had been forwarded to me and I had paid it). He also tells me that a second notice would have been sent telling me of the larger amount due for failure to pay. I swear I did not receive any such documentation. While I cannot prove it, I suspect that someone I know at my old location, with a grudge against me, threw away my paperwork.

My husband is out on disability (and has been for over a year and a half), and I am suffering from vertigo from undetermined causes. We have had a difficult time financially but have stayed afloat and met all our obligations. A payment of $750.00 to save my corporation would be a substantial hardship on me at this time. I sincerely request that you waive the late filing penalties due to the circumstances and accept the original fee due for the corporation of $150.00. I have enclosed a check for that amount with hope that you will show me compassion.

Thank you for your consideration and assistance.

Sincerely,

Cynthia L Warren, President
