Re: Application for Reinstatement
Corporation: Bada Bing Sports, Inc.
Ref. Number: P01000118266

To whom it may concern,

This is the second time I have requested a reinstatement, and the third time you have not followed through with your word. I was told to send a check of $150 and a letter along with the check giving the correct address of where I live. You received the letter and the check, however, when I received another letter from you telling me that I owe $750.00 now, you claimed that you never received the letter and $150.00 check that I sent to you. My bank statement showed that you indeed received my check and cashed it, and you are now holding my money, but you claim to never have received that money! What is going on here? Are you that disorganized that you conveniently misplace your applicant's funds? And, with your address mistake, you claim that I owe an additional $600.00?

The issue at hand here is that I was told by one of your representatives from the Florida Department of State, that I owe $150.00 and then I would be reinstated. That is what I was told and that is what is to happen. By law, if a credit card company was to send a bill to a wrong address, they are not given the authority to tack on late fees and fines for their mistake. You have the wrong address and are telling me that I owe $600.00 in reinstatement fees because I never received the bill on time. This is your fault, not mine, and I was already told that I only owe $150.00 which I paid. You need to get the address correct and realize that these fees are not my problem. I pay what I owe, not for company's mistakes. The address you should have is 14531 Sherbrook Place NOT 14531 Sheerbrook Place.

I am in business for the long run. I have impeccable credit, I work hard to build a great reputation for myself and with my lenders, and I always pay what I owe, but I do not owe on your mistake. I recently gave you a new address to my work, instead of my home to make things a little easier for you. Please, if you have any problems in the future, call me at (239) 822-6634. I do hope that your address problem is resolved, and you understand that those fees you are trying to charge me are dissolved because of your mistake. I owed $150.00 and I paid $150.00. Now I am waiting for you to reinstate me. Thank you for your time. Please get back to me as soon as possible...
