To Whom It May Concern:

Recently, while reviewing an Online Public Inquiry for Cenozoic Corporation, I discovered that the status was "INACTIVE". I immediately called your office and was advised that the Annual Report had not been filed and the form, along with additional correspondence mailed to us, had been returned to your office by the Post Office. After checking our address with your representative, I realized that your office did not have our current address or our Post Office box mailing address. Although we filed our Articles of Incorporation and rented the box at approximately the same time, we apparently didn't have the box at the time of filing.

Enclosed is the 2003 report showing our current information. Only the address and mailing address of the corporation and the street address of Maurizio M. Galvez have changed. All additional information remains the same as originally filed.

While I recognize that this address matter is ultimately our responsibility, I respectfully request that you accept the enclosed check for the Annual Report fee and that the Division waive the reinstatement fee. All of our filings and remittances to the Department of Revenue have been timely, as would this report had we been aware it was pending. Although we are very optimistic about the future, the long startup time, coupled with initial hardware and software expense have resulted in less than 4,000.00 in revenues and a net operating loss to date. The reinstatement fee would not only be a great hardship to the company, but to me personally, as I live solely on a very meager Social Security income, which this corporation, hopefully, will someday augment.

Your consideration of this matter is greatly appreciated.

Respectfully,

Charles C. Adams
Sec. Treas.
Cenozoic Corporation
