Ref: Corporation Reinstatement

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing this letter to have my company's status reinstated, because I found out that my company's status was inactive. I wanted to open a new business account and my bank representative informed me that she could not open a new account because my company's status was inactive as a corporation. This was a big surprise/shock to me, because in March of this year I applied on-line for the Uniform Business Report (UBR) renewal and applied my company's credit card for the $150.00 fee. I believed that the transaction had been completed and that everything was done. I never received any correspondence stating that the credit card information did not go through or there was a problem with my on-line filing. I had my bank check to see if it showed any record of the transaction and was told that they could not find a debit to my credit card. I'm asking you to wave the $600.00 reinstatement fee because I made a good faith effort to file on time using the electronic method to pay the required fee that were due at the time. I honestly believed that I had completed the renewal process. I am sending the completed reinstatement form and $150.00 check from my company's account along with the form I had filed in my records to show I filed on-line.
