Dear Sir/Madam,

I am a new business that filed my annual report for the first time this year. When I received a letter from a firm called Compliance Services in February 2009 I sent of a check for $125. to fulfill my obligation for an annual report. I received a letter back several months later May, 2009 from the company with my check back. Along with the letter was another letter from the Attorney Generals office telling me there was misleading information . In the first paragraph it clearly states that my minutes do not have to be filed with the state.

This week I received a post card from Sunbiz.org telling me that I have a 60 day dissolution notice. I went online and paid $550. to file my annual report. I realize now that I was caught up in a scam and when in good faith I thought I was taking care of my obligation back in February I was mislead. I would like to get the $400 penalty refunded . I am enclosing copies of all my correspondence from the various agencies and companies. Please contact me if you have questions at 305-788-1165.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.
