Subject: another question

We have recently set up a new corporation. At the time the Articles were filed with your department a EIN had not been obtained. We have obtained an EIN since then and have opened a bank account. The bank seems to have a problem with the fact that when they view the information about our new corporation on your website, the word "none" appears by EIN: I tried to explain to them that we would add the EIN when filing the annual report next year but they asked if we could add it sooner. Here is my question. What is the proper procedure to add this EIN to our company records maintained by the DOS?

Thank you,
