E. If amending or adding additional Articles, enter change(s) here:

(Attach additional sheets, if necessary). (Be specific)

1. The first step in the process of the investigation is the identification of the problem. This involves a thorough review of the available information and a clear definition of the issue at hand.

2. Once the problem is identified, the next step is to gather relevant data. This can be done through various methods, including interviews, observations, and the analysis of existing records.

3. After data collection, the investigator must analyze the information to identify patterns and potential causes. This step often involves the use of statistical tools and logical reasoning.

4. The final step in the process is the formulation of a conclusion. This should be based on the evidence gathered and the analysis performed. It is important to present the findings clearly and concisely.

F. If an amendment provides for an exchange, reclassification, or cancellation of issued shares, provisions for implementing the amendment if not contained in the amendment itself:

(if not applicable, indicate N/A)

1. The first step in the process of the scientific method is to make an observation or ask a question.

2. Next, a hypothesis is made, which is an educated guess or prediction about the outcome of the experiment.

3. Then, the hypothesis is tested by conducting an experiment or gathering data.

4. After the experiment, the results are analyzed to see if they support the hypothesis.

5. Finally, a conclusion is drawn based on the results of the experiment.
