NOTES FOR INCORPORATION IN Florida

Do Not Include Remaining Pages With Your Filing

Prior to signing and submitting your Articles of incorporation, please review them carefully for both content and formatting. You are making certain statements in the Articles of Incorporation that you will be bound to. A person commits an offense under the laws of your state if that person signs a document that the person knows is false in any material respect with the intent that the document be delivered to the state. State laws vary on the penalties and exact standards applicable. However, regardless of the standard or penalties, you must be certain that all information contained in the documents are accurate.

Be certain that you have completed all of the items noted on your Checklist.

Be certain to check your desired corporate name for availability prior to filing your documents. Note that name checks do not assure name availability at the time of filing and are not guaranteed by the Secretary of State. Do not invest sums advertising or otherwise invest sums of money or resources in your corporate name until you receive verification that your documents have been accepted. It is also recommended that you conduct a complete common law trademark search of your name before you devote resources to it. Transmit an original and one (1) copy of the Articles of Incorporation. The Secretary of State will send you a file stamped copy.

Please call the Secretary of State information line if you have any questions regarding your filing. You will need to complete your internal corporate formalities such as electing officers, conducting organizational meetings, making tax elections, obtaining a taxpayer identification number, subscribing to shares, filing for fictitious names, adopting Bylaws, creating and issuing share certificates.

You will need to maintain your corporate formalities on an ongoing basis. The incorporation documents provided herein are intended to provide information to meet the minimum statutory filing requirements in Florida. They are not designed to meet any special needs that you may have relative to the formation or operation of your corporation. It is recommended that you consult with legal counsel in your state.

No representation or warranty is made as to these documents, and all such representations and warranties are hereby disclaimed, including but not limited to warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose. The provider of these documents is not liable for any incidental or consequential damages.
